

George Francis Krueger
Sergeant
266th Chemical Service Platoon
United States Army
World War Two

George F. Krueger
Sergeant US Army
World War Two

George Francis Krueger, he was born in Chicago on October 23, 1927.

In 1945, at age 18, he signed up for the draft and was working at the Sorem Manufacturing Company.

He was inducted into the Army on February 27, 1946. After boot camp, he was assigned to the 266th Chemical Service Platoon and on October 10, 1947, was sent to Fort Richardson, Alaska.

Promoted to Sergeant, he was sent to Shemya Island, on the far west tip of the Aleutian Islands. He would remain there until his discharge on April 23, 1948.

On August 18, 1951, he married Florence Dziekonski in Chicago. They would remain Chicago residents until his death February 20, 1994.

This binder is a tribute to him and all other Veterans that have served our great nation. We are proud to be able to add this collection to our archives. Additional information was researched and provided by Mrs. Louise Bartnicki.

You can view this collection, and many other artifacts in the Chicagoland Veterans Campus Veterans Library.

Please schedule an appointment with us, because our hours vary.

If you have any Veterans' history that you would like included in our Archives, please contact museum President Lorenzo Fiorentino.

SHEMYA AIR BASE

ALEUTIAN ISLANDS

During World War II, Shemya had a large army air base. Soldiers died in training accidents. Some pilots, wounded in air operations against the Japanese, returned to the Shemya air base and died. There were also deaths by suicides. These deceased troops were interred in the Shemya "Hillside Cemetery" cemetery, in the northwest corner of the island. This was always meant to be a reverent but temporary situation. After the war, the deceased were transferred to military or civilian cemeteries based on the wishes of the next of kin. The disinterment and reinternment of WW II remains was guided by government policy outlined in the pamphlet, Disposition of World War II Armed Forces Dead (1946).
